

Smokey Bear,
Over 2 Million Acres

1995, TV, eng

Female Speaker: Over 2 million acres of our wildlands burn each year, and hundreds of homes are lost as a result.

Newscaster: At least 50 homes were burned to the ground. Dozens more were damaged as fires raced through dense brush and steep canyons.

Female Speaker: Flames don't know the difference between forest, rangelands, and homes. Learn how you can fireproof your home. For more information, contact your local fire protection agency, State Forestry office, or the USDA Forest Service.
